What's Happening in March?

Focus on Language and Literacy!

Language and literacy can be developed and supported in a variety of ways. To coincide with Read Across America Week, we will provide extended opportunities for children to engage and learn. For example, letter recognition and matching activities will be available in our PS and PK classrooms. Look for outside-the-box ideas to support this growth, such as using letters on a variety of materials to match them to a written word or name. Exploring and extending conversations to introduce and develop vocabulary will occur across each classroom.

How can I extend this at home?

We encourage conversations that introduce children to a wide range of new words and vocabulary. Point out things while driving in the car that they may be unfamiliar with. The more they hear new words, the more interested they become, and it expands their knowledge. With infants and toddlers, pointing to objects and having conversations with them is extremely impactful. Providing moments that relate to the children and their everyday experiences will prove to be most helpful! This is what our teachers are doing with emergent programming.

Outside of the Classroom! Let's look for Spring!

Look for our educators to host an outdoor scavenger hunt! It's a great way to get them outside, breathe some fresh air, and soak up some sun after a long, gloomy winter. We will search for signs of spring. What does it feel like, smell like, and look like?
